

UAE at Biennale di Venezia features „Second Time Around“

May 31, 2011

VENICE, ITALY / The Pavilion of the United Arab Emirates at the 54th International Art Exhibition - la Biennale di Venezia features “Second Time Around”. The UAE participates with its second National Pavilion in the Arsenale proudly presenting the work of three Emirati artists to the international community.

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

Under the Ministry of Culture, Youth and Community Development and with the support of the Emirates Foundation for Philanthropy and Abu Dhabi’s Tourism Development & Investment Company (TDIC), the Pavilion of the United Arab Emirates presents Second Time Around at the 54th International Art Exhibition – la Biennale di Venezia. The Second Time Around exhibit features three Emirati artists: Reem Al Ghaith, Abdullah Al Saadi and Lateefa bint Maktoum who present individual concepts set in same-size spaces that are actually islands on their own.

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

The exhibit is developed and presented under the leadership of its Commissioner, Dr. Lamees Hamdan and Curator Vasif Kortun, an internationally respected writer and Director of Research and Programs, SALT, Istanbul.

Photo: Dr. Lamees Hamdan / © seeing things photography

Photo: Vasif Kortun / © seeing things photography

Second Time Around

The title refers to the UAE's debut appearance at the biennial in 2009. A newcomer to the la Biennale di Venezia, the UAE Pavilion found itself in a position of answering extensive and curious demands, which it addressed with a humorous self-criticality. The second Pavilion is, in turn, a sign of slowly coming of age. Purposefully modest, Second Time Around refers to the barebones of the exhibition. The attitude adopted in choosing the title is also echoed in the approach to the exhibition, where each artist's work is presented in a dedicated setting.

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Vasif Kortun elaborated, “No longer contextualized in what have become the absolute clichés of the international reception of the UAE, the UAE Pavilion for 2011 does not aim to treat the exhibition as curatorial conceit; but rather chooses to realize the theoretical foundation in the immanence of the works in the exhibition. The Pavilion is not curated around concepts, but around artistic positions, as if three independent projects form a coherent exhibition structure pivoting around the works of the artists, Reem Al Ghaith, Abdullah Al Saadi and Lateefa bint Maktoum.”

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

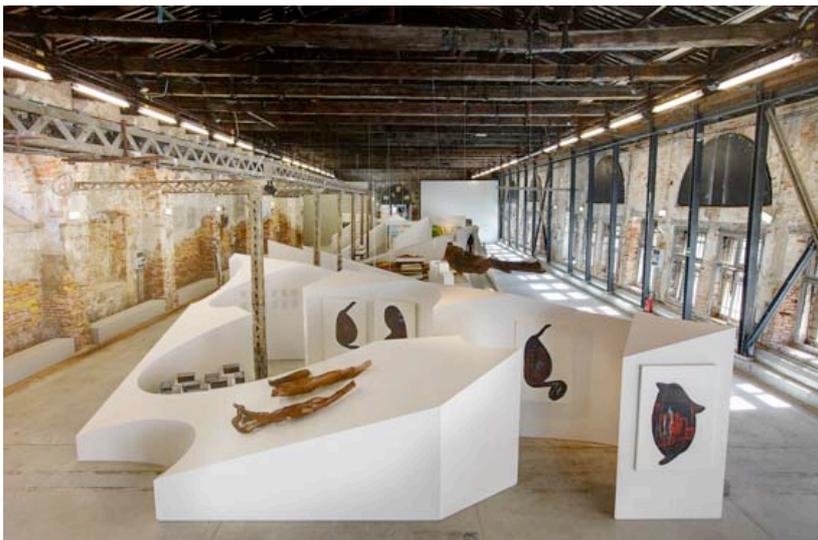

Photo: Installation photography of the UAE Pavilion at the Venice Biennale, 2011 / © seeing things photography

The Artists

Second Time Around presents the work of three artists: One an incorrigible artist who does not care one way or another if he is in any exhibition as long as he is able to work in his own precise way (Abdullah Al Saadi), the second a very young artist whose installation practice speaks to the UAE in the most novel way probable (Reem Al Ghaith), and third an artist who has assimilated, and deconstructed the transformation of her environs (Lateefa bint Maktoum). The Emirati artists selected by Kortun represent the UAE through displays of an installation, mixed-media sculpture, and photography.

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Reem Al Ghaith

holds a BSc in Visual Communication from the School of Architecture and Design, American University of Sharjah, UAE. Her work examines changes in the urban and social landscape of the UAE, often with sophisticated all-around installations that relate to tradition and history, yet do not fall into banal representations of the subject.

Photo: Reem Al Ghaith / © seeing things photography

Abdullah Al Saadi

holds a degree in English Literature from United Arab Emirates University, Al Ain. From 1994 -1996 he studied Japanese painting at Kyoto Seika University in Japan. He lives and works in Khor Fakkan, outside the art world and untethered by its demands and daily routines. His work is a daily practice of recording, inventing normative groupings, and documenting species that are beyond “scientific inquiry.”

Photo: Abdullah Al Saadi / © seeing things photography

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Lateefa Bint Maktoum

holds a B.A. in Visual Arts from Zayed University, Latifa College. Her practice largely consists of composite, digitally manipulated images based on highlighted, enhanced, and conflated realities from her immediate memories as well as the distant past. Her compositions combine an aestheticism of British painting with enhanced local fauna and flora that sit in stark opposition to images of urbanization. Maktoum is also a curator and Founder and Director of Tashkeel, a public studio providing specialist facilities for artists and designers living and working in the UAE.

Photo: Lateefa Bint Maktoum / © seeing things photography

Scenography

The curator selected Superpool to help him realize the exhibit presentation. Together, they created three independent yet equally sized exhibition “islands” which emphasize the unique practice of each artist without detracting from the common themes that underlie each of their works. Superpool is a multidisciplinary design firm based in Istanbul. Headed by Selva Gurdogan and Gregers Tang Thomsen, they met at Rem Koolhaas studio Office for Metropolitan Architecture – OMA – in 2003, where they worked until establishing Superpool in 2006.

Design Materials

Möbius Design Studio, a Dubai based collective led by Riem Hassan, Hala Al-Ani and Hadeyeh Badri, was commissioned to create a simultaneous Arabic and English language visual experience for the exhibition. The three person team is comprised of recent graduates from the American University of Sharjah. Their work focuses on bringing conceptual elements to primarily Arabic language design.

GALERIE BRIGITTE SCHENK

Venice Internship

A specialized internship program has been developed for the National Pavilion with the aim to create a legacy of skilled art practitioners in the UAE learning through interaction and exposure to top international artists and curators. A select group of twenty-four Emiratis and long-term residents of the UAE are serving as exhibition managers for the National Pavilion at La Biennale di Venezia from 31 May to 27 November 2011. The interns work alongside distinguished curator Vasif Kortun and the team of the UAE Pavilion office while engaging in a comprehensive art educational program based on the extraordinary art and cultural institutions in Venice and the temporary exhibitions of the Biennale.

Supporting Partners

The UAE Pavilion has been initiated and supported by His Excellency Abdul Rahman bin Mohammed Al Owais, UAE Minister of Culture, Youth and Community Development, the Emirates Foundation for Philanthropy and the Tourism Development & Investment Company (TDIC).

http://islamicartsmagazine.com/magazine/view/uae\_at\_biennale\_di\_venezia\_features\_second\_time\_around/